2024 OLAC & PBIS Showcase

FUTURE FORWARD: Accelerating Leadership & Learning

JANUARY

With a shared vision for building the capacity of those who lead, teach, and serve students in Ohio's schools and beyond, we are excited to continue our partnership with the Ohio Department of Education and Workforce and the Ohio PBIS Network to host the 2024 OLAC & PBIS Showcase.

This one-day, virtual professional learning event is designed to share powerful examples about how district, building, and teacher-based teams are working together to impact all learners AND showcase Ohio's schools implementing positive behavioral interventions and supports (PBIS) with high fidelity.

For the past three years, thousands of Ohio superintendents, principals, teachers, counselors, and others have participated in this FREE professional learning event.

New Date & Format

This year, we are excited to offer a completely live virtual event—live keynotes, live learning sessions, live Q&A with presenters, and a live student panel. The live event will allow us to engage in real time, while reaching as many Ohio educators as possible.

This year's event theme is Future Forward: Accelerating Leadership & Learning. Learning content will be organized around four strands:

- Overcoming obstacles to learning: Addressing barriers that prevent students from engaging in learning.
- Accelerating learning: Providing effective opportunities to learn through programs like after-school and summer programming, tutoring, and supporting districts in using high-quality instructional resources.
- Preparing students for future success: Helping students re-discover their 'why' for learning and more smoothly transition to their next stages through career and college connections.
- Leading forward: Using collaborative team structures to lead schools forward and share the responsibility for improving student achievement.

LEADING FROM THE MIDDLE

In the face of a global pandemic, catastrophic weather events, war, racism, and attacks on democracy, how should educational leaders respond? How can leaders enable their schools and districts to be agile, safe, and effective places of learning that help young people develop the knowledge and character that will empower them to shape their futures? While some schools and districts have taken top-down or bottom-up approaches, explore a new type of leadership—leadership from the middle—which becomes a driver of transformational change.

Drawing from research with educational leaders across the United States, United Kingdom, and Canada, discover a type of leadership that regards obstacles as opportunities, embraces leadership paradox, and is collaborative, inspiring, and inclusive. Expanding off of his ground-breaking book, learn more about what this type of leadership looks like, but also how it is most effective in addressing complex problems and in educating young people to develop diverse global competencies to prepare them for their futures.

ALIGNING INITIATIVES TO ADDRESS THE SOCIAL, EMOTIONAL, BEHAVIORAL, AND MENTAL HEALTH NEEDS OF STUDENTS

The Interconnected Systems Framework (ISF) expands the logic of the multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS) core features (teaming, using data for decision making, use of evidence-based practices, professional development, and a continuous improvement cycle) to address the social-emotional-behavioral health and wellness for all. Learn more about the key messages of a single system of delivery across state, district, and school levels, discover practical resources, and learn how to examine current efforts in related initiatives, such as trauma-informed care, social-emotional learning, mental health, and behavior supports and create an action plan for alignment.
